

LANDOWNERS FIRST ON GUARANTEE FUND

Scottdale Chamber of Commerce Will Begin Their Work Soon...

AND $150,000 IS THE GOAL

Secretary W. L. Kelly Says All Industries Fall in One of Four Classes and Explains Each One—Bonus Hunters Not Worried.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, April 20.—The 60 day period in which to make payment of the membership fee of the Chamber of Commerce is up and Secretary W. L. Kelly has been instructed to send bills for the fee to all members, not having already paid. He will request early payment of the fee. Secretary Kelly says that he is in direct communication with between 10 and 20 concerns looking for a suitable site. A great majority, he continues, collect a bonus and there are passed up without consideration. The secretary now has seven or eight concerns that look good and can be secured for Scottdale if financial help be afforded them through a guarantee fund.

In discussing the matter, Secretary Kelly says that all the concerns may be looked at as falling into one of four classes. The first class is made up of industries organized by people who are interested in them for reasons personal to themselves and the locality in which they live. The makeup of the second class is of industries whose first consideration is to buy up land surrounding their location through the laying out of lots make suitable to almost any for building their plant. The land owners about Scottdale will not give up the land at a price to induce this class to come to this neighborhood, and it is therefore useless to attempt to secure them. In the third class are industries organized by people who are out for speculation and are hunting a bonus. Plants that depend upon a bonus for existence are not deemed worthy of securing and are passed by with but slight consideration.

The fourth class is made up of industries organized by people who do not have funds to establish and open business, and who are willing to overlook the land speculation and are glad to receive financial aid. This class of industries is the kind to be secured through the aid of a Guarantee Fund. These are the kind that the Chamber of Commerce is investigating.

Efforts are, therefore, being made to have landowners start the fund as they are the ones who will naturally receive the earliest and largest benefits. Then the fund will be put up to the business men and after that to the property owners. The operation of the fund, briefly, is that a citizen pledges his name to pay, for illustration, $10,000 of the fund, along with the many others who make up a fund of $150,000. No money is paid in by the subscriber. After the fund has been secured all the subscribers elect trustees, say three of their own number, they being given the power of attorney to endorse or guarantee the obligation of the persons establishing the new industries here. A close auditing agreement between the persons establishing the industry and the trustees, is made in which the industry is run under the supervision of the trustees, the same as though the industry was in the hands of a receiver. If the establishment or concerns pays the money loaned or borrowed on the endorsement of the trustees the operation of the fund ends for that industry.

Should the management prove unprofitable and it becomes apparent to those in charge that the plant will be unable to operate profitably, the ownership of the property or plant will pass to the trustees, and it will be handled in the interests of the fund. Should a final loss ensue the fund will be drawn upon for the extent of loss, each subscriber being liable for only his or her pro rata share. It has been considered and practically found that the endorsement ordinarily should not be for more than 40 per cent of the amount invested by the industry locating where the fund is made use of. Should an industry be very promising and the management assured the fund might be extended to 50 per cent but not more.

In case of the trustees being compelled to take over the plant or industry eventually the loss could not be figured for more than 10, 15 or 20 per cent, which would be a very small loss to each subscriber to the fund considering that an industry had been secured for the town, the latter then owning the industry.

For before Scottdale was laid out, land which the town now covers was not of a value exceeding $200,000. There are now about 4,000 people employed about the public works of Scottdale and these employees and their real-

J. H. JOY ATTACKS BROTHER, THEN TRIES TO BURN HOME.

Son of the Late Fred Joy Believed to Have Been Crazy by the Death of His Father—Necessary to Keep Him Manacled in the Police Station.

Attacking his brother with a club and then attempting to burn down the house was last night a climax in the pathetic story of the Joy family of Scottdale. Crazy with grief over the death of his father and mother, which occurred within a single week, J. Herbert Joy attempted to slay his brother, Harry, with a heavy club, secured an armful of hay and returned with the intention of firing the house. He was prevented only by the timely arrival of neighbors who heard the commotion.

Walter Leichter, Thomas Tilburn, Harry Joy and others overpowered the crazed young man and with difficulty bound him. Constable F. P. Crossland and Charles Wilson arrived soon after and found young Joy trussed up, although willing, to be taken to the police station but continued violent the greater part of the night. It was necessary to keep him manacled during the time he was released from a cell and permitted to pace the corridor in the ladies' department.

This morning Justice of the Peace W. P. Clark came to the police station and held a hearing on charges of assault of the peace preferred by Harry Joy, the brother. Constable Charles Wilson took the prisoner to Uniontown later.

Since the death of Fred Joy, the value of the community to about $4,000,000. This does not include Everson, and adjoining suburbs. Should the people of Scottdale create a fund of $150,000 and an industry or industries employing 1,000 men be secured and should the entire fund of $150,000 be spent in the effort, which is practically impossible, the industries would be considered cheap. Williamsport has carried a fund of $200,000 to $500,000 for the last ten years, and the organization reports a loss of very little from default or failure of the industries secured, but they have spent an average of $1,000 to $4,000 in the ten years to secure industries and now have 20 of these established through the fund and running prosperously, and employing over 3,000 men.

Those active in the matter of securing industries for Scottdale feel that just as good and perhaps better results may be attained for Scottdale for much less, but feel that the citizens of Scottdale should take a broad view of the question of the Guarantee Fund and the cost of getting industries. They should not feel that industries can be secured and the town boomed without some expense. With the natural advantages possessed by Scottdale for manufacturing plants of all kinds the town should become the largest in Westmoreland or Fayette counties and will become such if the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce are given proper and liberal support.

Child is Bride; But 14 Years Old

A fourteen year old bride was married for better or worse by Justice of the Peace W. P. Clark last evening. She was Maria Giovannico Monaco and the bridegroom Gullio D'Ascenzi. Both came from Ohio. The marriage ceremony was performed in Squire Clark's office.

It wasn't a romantic wedding, for the bride room opened a jail sentence by taking into himself a wife. Little Maria Giovannico Monaco was indicted and an enraged father sought revenge through the prosecution of the mother of the child's misfortune. Gullio was more than willing to marry the child and after father's anger cooled he decided to withdraw the information against Gullio and permit the couple to wed.

AUNT JANE HUBBS CALLED BY DEATH.

Resident of the West Side Who Was Past 91 Years Old.

RETAINED HER FACULTIES

Almost to the End of Her Long Life. Was Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Hubbs of Brownsville—Interment in Bethel Cemetery.

Miss Sara Jane Hubbs, better known in Connellville and Dawson as "Aunt Jane," died yesterday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Alice Kelly on North Sixth street, West Side. Miss Hubbs was aged 91 years, one month and 7 days. She was a remarkably bright woman and was able to be about up until a few weeks ago. Death resulted from the infirmities of old age. Several days before her death she became very feeble and talked with great difficulty. She was conscious up until the time of her death. Miss Hubbs was a great reader and was a very entertaining conversationalist. Her eyesight and hearing never failed her and in all her life she never wore a pair of eye glasses. She was a fond of young people and visits from her many young friends were greatly appreciated. Miss Hubbs frequently made visits to her Dawson friends and always made the trip alone. She was spry for many persons of 60.

Decedent was born in Philadelphia and was a daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. John Hubbs. When she was quite young she came to Brownsville with her parents. Her father was a prominent physician of Brownsville and his death occurred while living at that place. Miss Hubbs is the last surviving member of the family. Her age was one subject that she never cared to discuss and it was only disclosed by means of an old book she had used in her school days.

Next to Miss Mary Jane Brown, who died a few weeks ago, Miss Hubbs was the oldest woman resident of the West Side. After the death of her parents, brothers and sisters, Miss Hubbs made her home with members of the Cochran family at Dawson for a number of years and was widely known in and around Lower Tyone township. Four years ago she came to the West Side to spend the remainder of her life with Mrs. Alice Kelly. She was given the best of care by Mrs. Kelly and her numerous friends and the declining years of her life were pleasant ones. She was a member of the Christian Church for many years and attended services regularly up until her health failed her.

Funeral services will be held this morning at 9:15 o'clock from the Kelly residence. Rev. J. P. Allison, pastor of the Christian Church officiated. A large number of friends of the deceased were present. The body was removed to Dawson and tomorrow morning will be taken to the Bethel Church in Lower Tyone township from which place services will be held. Interment in the Bethel Cemetery, the family burying ground.

An Old Debt Paid. The heirs of the late Joseph Gelf, of near Johnstown, yesterday received $210 from an anonymous sender, who stated that the money was for payment of a debt, with interest, contracted 25 years ago.

Pipe Organ Mystery Cleared. The mystery of a pipe organ's queer antics in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Greensburg has been cleared. A cat was found imprisoned in the organ.

THE LID WAS OFF IN TOWN YESTERDAY

Side Show Performances That Were Models of Monstrous Depravity.

AUTHORITIES WINKED AT IT

Crooked Games Were Also Permitted and the Suckers as Usual Were Fleeced—Flight at the Circus Performance Last Night.

Several performances not down on the program were presented at the circus grounds yesterday. E. J. White, a well known resident of the West Side, backed the tiger and lost to the extent of $45, according to the police. Three young men gave a side show in the main tent during the evening performance and were arrested by Officers James Francis and C. H. McCullough. Other losses occurred, it is stated, but the losers accepted misfortune philosophically and did not report them to the police.

The smooth fingered entry was said to have been present in force at the show grounds. After County Detective McBeth had inspected the side show and politely turned his back, the games were started. The most profitable was a wheel contraption. It looked easy to beat and the gains were big. The player was given a chance to take in $50 in exchange for $2. Several players won, but in every instance they were strangers, leading to the conviction that "captives" were on the job to rope in the fall guys. White was one of these last named players, according to reports. He backed the contest long enough to drop $45 and then went for the officers. White didn't get any money back.

The fact is the lid was off at the circus yesterday. Whether the official "fix" of the show was tipped off that it would be all right or took a chance, the roof was the limit. As with all regulation side shows, the Oriental dance was staged to big business at two bits a throw. For good measure there were three dancers, who eked out side money between the acts by selling post cards. The postcards, let it be noted, could not be exhibited in polite company and would also offend the dignity of the United States mail.

As a premium to purchasers, the ladies with the gaudy tinzel and a superabundance of rouge affixed autographed verses on the reverse side of the cards that wouldn't pass the censor.

Persons who witnessed the inner side show performance say it was too obscene to even suggest its nature in these columns and that the pictures are monstrous in their moral depravity; also the line of talk handed out by the women performers to the audience of men. Boys under sixteen were refused from admission. The local officers had a busy spell during the evening performance when Frank Spittler, a resident of the Second ward, and an amateur baseball catcher, resented the obstruction to his view presented by Emerson Bittner and Wooda Crossland. Spittler resented against the pain in front cornering the line of vision from the rear and words followed. Bittner was also struck, the aggressive Spittler drawing the claret from Bittner's physiognomy. Crossland went to the rescue of his companion, but Spittler didn't play ball in the Irish language without leaning to take care of himself.

There were loud cries of "Police!" "Police!" but it took several minutes for Officers James Francis and Clifford McCullough to realize that spectators and not the clowns were causing the disturbance. Both officers were at the far end of the tent and did a dash toward the scene. All previous speed forgotten, they raced toward the excited spectators could tell McCullough was going fast as his tail coat trailed in the rear at an acute right angle to the position taken by his sprinting form. Francis kept the pace. The three policemen were hustled down to the police station without ceremony. They posted forfeits for their unbecoming flight at a hearing before Burgess J. L. Evans.

Alleged Disorderly House is Pulled

Officers James Francis and Joseph O'Brien at noon today raided an alleged disorderly house in Orchard street conducted by Joseph Robbins. Four arrests were made, three men and a woman.

Two of them were unable to post the $10 forfeit required and a Burgess Evans tonight in police court.

Fair Weather. Fair tonight and Friday; Friday colder, is the noon weather bulletin.

BATTLE EXPECTED AT EL PASO TODAY.

General Madero With His Army Is Before City of Juarez.

WAITING FOR AN ANSWER

To an Ultimatum Issued Yesterday to the Mexican General to Surrender—Engagement Promises to Be Severe of the Rebellion.

United Press Telegram. EL PASO, Tex., April 20.—Francisco I. Madero, accompanied by 150 insurgent troops, appeared opposite the El Paso smelter in the hills at 10:15 A. M. today. More than 1,000 insurgents have already appeared from the south and are watering their mounts in the Rio Grande.

With Madero's ultimatum in the hands of General Navarro, both Federalists and insurgents are waiting on their arms today for the opening of hostilities which promise to be the fiercest and most momentous of the Mexican revolution. A dozen mortars and field guns with 750 Federal cavalry and infantry and 300 volunteers will defend Juarez, while upward of 2,000 insurgents with two cannon and three field guns are anxiously awaiting the hour of 6 P. M., the time limit set for Madero's ultimatum to be replied to.

In demanding the surrender of Juarez the insurgents today sent notice of the expected attack to Colonel Sharpe and Colonel Stever of the United States army here, as well as to the United States Consul at Juarez and Mayor Kelly of El Paso. The insurgents are asking great pains to see that all non-combatants and Americans get to places of safety before the battle starts. Great precautions are being taken by the United States army and city and county officials to keep Americans out of the danger zone. It is hardly probable that Madero will establish his men in a permanent position before nightfall.

Reports from the insurgents today are to the effect that they have received a large amount of supplies and recruits from this vicinity during the night.

One method of attack will be bombarding by the insurgents and much uncertainty is felt for Converse, Britt and other Americans who are being held in the Juarez jail.

They All Located Missing Hose House

The Mutts and Jeffs were entertained last evening by W. D. McGinnis at his Washington avenue home. Seven up was the principal pastime but McGinnis introduced some specialties that proved even more interesting than handling the pastime cards.

The feature of the evening was a guessing contest to locate the following 50 places in Fayette county: Springfield, Boonsgrove, Cookestown, Zechendorf, Connellville, Grove, Mount Union, Nelsons Beach, Johnston, New Kelly, Cow Rock, Andy Bar, Yorkville, Bloomington, Mud Bend, Tompkins, Shadyside, Gobles, Knott, Stony Batter, Old Paper Mill, Frumery Hook, Snap Hollow, Maynard Hollow, Tate's Hollow, Polecat Hollow, Little Hick, Hickory Bottom, Swartzertown, Hayti, Falls City, Seaboard, Sherbondy, Burn Alexander, Pea Vine, Platts, Lime Stone Hill, Johnsons Hill, Rotunda, Trump Hollow, Besantown, Wallick City, Crawford City, Senecaville, Nigger Hill, 2nd Street, Mansfield, W. L. Armstrong, Poverty Neck Hill, Lam Duck Bottom, Deer Lick Hill, Lyons Second Ward, How House.

Alex B. Hood won the first prize, 11. George May second and Burgess J. L. Evans the third. As the prizes were three red apples of equal size, prizee brilliancy and delicious taste, the winner had nothing over the other two successful contestants. It is noted that the 50th question was to locate the Second Ward Hose House. Its was answered correctly by all of the participants, its location having been made known recently to a curious puzzle through the columns of The Courier.

Torrence Avenue Is Closed Now

Rapid progress on the construction work being done on the West Side by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad has resulted in the closing of Torrence avenue to travel. A fence has been thrown across the bridge over Oppenheim street. The fact that no notice had been given of closing the road caused travelers some inconvenience.

The route to Limontown hill is now by way of Veesh street, which is in fairly good shape. This street will eventually be paved and a new bridge erected across Oppenheim run.

LITTLE GIRL ASSAULTED BY NEGRO; A LYNCHING MAY FOLLOW TODAY.

Eva Lowery, Aged 14, of Ellerslie, on the Connellville Division, Near Hyndman, Victim of Brute.

Little Leaves; No Dog Killer

Special Agent J. T. Little of the State Livestock Sanitary Board, who spent several days in Connellville investigating the dog quarantine, left yesterday. He promises to return within a week or so and resume the crusade against canines. Homer Long, employed to execute dogs violating the quarantine, is not on the job. It is not expected that the war against the dogs will be resumed until Mr. Little's return, the local authorities being willing that the State Livestock Sanitary Board shall have charge of it. It is not unlikely that Little will return unannounced and resume the campaign of extermination that was started upon his arrival here. For this reason owners of valuable dogs would be wise in keeping their animals under close supervision.

Have Rails Laid Next September

Division Engineer J. I. Palmer of the Connellville & State Line railroad stated today that all the rails for the new railroad would be laid on its division not later than September. The laying of rails will be started on some parts of the line in the near future. Although September is the time set for having all the rails laid the road will not be ready for traffic until the track can be properly ballasted and aligned.

The west bridge at Ohioville will be completed early next week and ready for the superstructure. The east bridge has already been completed. The contractors expected to complete the west bridge this week but were unavoidably delayed.

Forfeits Posted by Police Victims

A few prisoners arrested yesterday by the police were able to post forfeits save one who proved too much intoxicated this morning for a hearing. One man was picked up along Water street this morning still suffering from the effects of yesterday's dissipation. These two will receive hearings before Burgess J. L. Evans this evening.

John Edwards, colored, was disorderly at the show grounds about noon yesterday. Chief of Police Hotel and Special Officer Joseph Hager brought him to city hall. He later posted a forfeit and was released.

ALL POWER AND LIGHT OFF WHEN STEAM PIPE BURST.

Cars on West Penn Railways This Morning Held Up for Over an Hour—Suspension Extended Over Entire System.

For an hour this morning the vast territory served by the West Penn. was without electric light or power because of a broken steam line at the power house at Fayette. No one was injured in the accident. It was just 7 o'clock that the main steam line over the boilers burst, making it necessary to shut down the plant. Connellville was without electric light, and the scores of other towns supplied by the West Penn were in the same plight.

SEARCH MADE ALL NIGHT

For Giant Who Attacked Girl, Possessing Rope With Them to Hang Him If Caught—Word Sent to the Police Here.

Armed and determined men are searching the mountains between Meyersdale and Cumberland this morning for the assailant of pretty Eva Lowery, 14 years of age, who was brutally maltreated last yesterday afternoon in her home near Ellerslie by a giant negro.

Workmen deserted the Pennsylvania railroad shops at Ellerslie, on the Connellville division of the B. & O. railroad near the Pennsylvania State line, yesterday afternoon, immediately upon receipt of the word that the daughter of one of the workmen, Perry Lowery, had been attacked. Arming themselves with clubs, revolvers and shot guns, and carrying ropes, the men began a systematic search, which was continued all night, despite the heavy down pour of rain. When daylight came this morning the men continued the search with renewed vigor, and promise a lynching be if the negro is captured.

The negro yesterday applied at the house for something to eat. Disregarding the warning of her father not to open the door during his absence, Miss Lowery did so and then making some excuse, attempted to close it. The negro, however, threw his weight against the door and entered the house. A desperate struggle ensued between the two, in which the girl's face and clothing were badly torn, and chairs and tables were overturned.

A brother of the girl, Eugene, aged 12 years, who was working in a nearby garden, heard his sister's screams for help, and armed with a hoe, hurried to the house. As he entered, and before he could use the weapon, the negro knocked him down and fled.

The boy summoned neighbors and a physician and then formed a posse to search for the negro. Arming himself with his father's rifle, and after sending word to his father at the shops, he led the young men and boys in pursuit of his sister's assailant. He is still in the mountains in the way to a store nearby.

Mrs. Mary Lowery, mother of Eva Lowery and daughter Nellie, aged seven, were instantly killed several months ago by a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train near Hyndman. They were struck at a crossing while on the way to a store nearby.

At Meyersdale and Cumberland this morning it was stated that word has been sent to the police at Connellville and all towns along the B. & O. between Cumberland and Pittsburgh to be on the lookout for the negro. The supposition is, however, that he is hiding in the mountains somewhere between Hyndman and Sand Patch.

Sewer Survey on West Side

Borough Engineer J. B. Hogg is surveying the new sewers on the West Side to be laid by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. The sewers were made necessary by the changes taking place on the West Side through the building of the railroad.

A 21 inch sewer is to be laid parallel to the private sewer of John Duggan in Seventh street from Monson avenue to the river. This sewer will also be laid in Monson avenue between Seventh and Eighth streets. An 18 inch sewer is to be laid along Veesh street from Main street to Oppenheim run.

THE PASSING OF THE WOODEN COKE CAR.

The wooden coke car has reached the limit of its usefulness and is being crowded off the tracks by the modern steel car. The leading coke in the town in the Connelville region, it was progressive, in turning its wooden cars and reducing their metal parts to scrap. In the meantime, it has practically supplanted them with modern steel cars. The same policy is being pursued by the railroad companies, and in a comparatively brief period the wooden coke car will be a thing of the past.

With the departure of the wooden car and the advent of the steel car, capacities have undergone a radical change. The size of coke cars has been growing at a rate commensurate with the growth of the Connelville coke trade. Twenty years ago, the uniform capacity of coke cars was 18 tons, and it remained practically at that figure for a decade. With the advent of the steel open-top and box cars, the capacity rose slightly and it now ranges from 25 to 40 tons. The present average of the Connelville region proper is 31 tons and the Connelville coke region 37 tons. In the 18-ton decade, the tonnage output of the coke region could be accurately determined by multiplying the number of cars by 18; now, the tonnage cannot be estimated even approximately from the number of cars shipped.

The steel car has numerous advantages over the wooden car. It is stronger, it is not the only one. The wooden car frequently caught fire from the hot coke and was often destroyed in transit. The wooden body being subject to the heat of the coke, was always more or less burned and charred, and as a result had a very short life. The repair work on this class of cars was consequently very expensive.

The passing of the wooden car, however, is not the only wood that is passing. Steel construction is supplanting wood in numerous other lines, and necessarily so. The forests are passing, the timber is going; there must be something to take its place.

THE VAIN IMAGININGS OF OPPOSITION ORGANS.

The Philadelphia North American, the Pittsburgh Post and other Organs of Opposition have discovered in the Thompson bill a dark and villainous plot on the part of Connelville Capital to grab the available water, gas, light and electric light, heat and power franchises left in Pennsylvania. The bills give the right of eminent domain to companies which improve the streams for water power, and permit the extension of electric lines anywhere within the State. It would seem that the opposition organs are busy creating monopolies, as calculated to invite competition in the electrical business and to insure to the benefit of the public.

Our esteemed but nervous contemporaries should calm themselves. The Thompson bills have not passed yet, nor have they been signed, and if they were actually laws they would have to be to the coming Public Utilities bill, which is it understood will provide all the safeguards the most effective citizen could desire against corporate oppression.

It will be recalled that the Organs of Opposition mentioned were very active during the late campaign in charging Governor Tener with having an illicit connection with the fraudulent Public Utilities company. The Public Utilities company which Governor Tener now proposes to create will be the People's company, and it will possibly make more of the corporate influence that misrepresented, abused and tried to defeat him more sorry than ever that they failed, but it will also prove to the honest citizens of Pennsylvania that they made no mistake when they gave John Kiley Tener their confidence and support.

The Organs of Opposition are imagining many vain things, but they are destined to wake up.

The Irwin Chamber of Commerce protests against the lax conditions there due to the miners' strike. Some business men are so eager to come favor with the laboring man that they always endorse his demands and encourage his strikes. We do not know whether this was the case in Irwin or not, but in all such cases the merchant reaps the losses in ruin.

The Ligonier robbers were run down at last and the merchants of that mountain village will sleep better of nights.

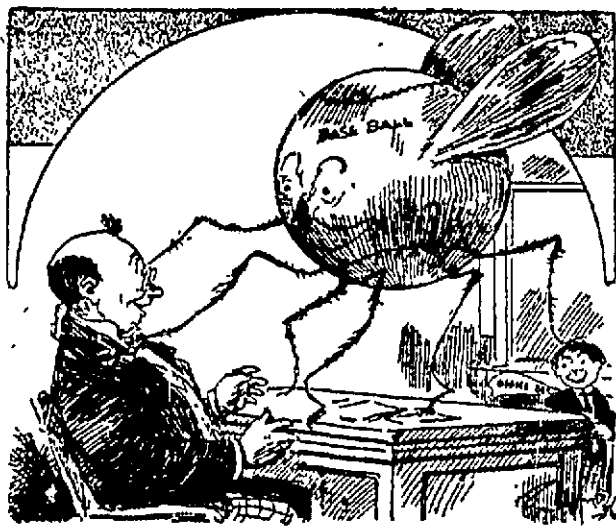

The Reciprocity bill is under heavy consideration.

Speaker Cox is accused of Cauterism.

The Western Maryland engineers are looking for trouble below as well as above ground, and their native efforts are being directed to the coal veins along the line between Connelville and Confluence. They will find a liberal area of coal in the section which they ought to develop. It has not been opened only for the reason that there were no shipping facilities.

Neither the press nor the paid fire department should be abusive.

The Government has purchased a coal mine in the Pittsburgh district. It will, of course, be a Union mine, but it will not be a serious competitor of the private operators. In operation will be under the most advanced practical methods, but its position in the coal market will be entirely theoretical.

Everywhere, even at this early date, the baseball bug is getting in his work.

The Stahtown bank had to drop its earlier because his pace threatened to stall the bank.

The Presbyterian congregation is looking for a new site. It is time the Presbyterians were moving. It is not good business policy to cling to an old but valuable property in the business district. It is too expensive. The congregation can have a new and modern church practically without additional investment by making a judicious sale of the Main street property and building in a more desirable location.

The Baltimore & Ohio yards are dangerous places to walk in, especially after dark.

The contract for the new Sand Patch tunnel is reported to have been let. The B. & O. officials lost no time in awarding this much-needed improvement.

The Pennsylvania railroad is doubtless the best in the nation. The coke business is not so promising just now, but the railroad people evidently think its activity will not be long delayed.

The milk dealers have taken to the bottle.

The Baptist church supper brought some excellent dishes and old friends to Connelville, and they were all impressed with the progress at the Coke Center.

Local politics are making the hits of the season.

The Lower Tyrone township wedding that didn't come off is only another illustration of the fact that it is a woman's privilege to change her mind.

A decided improvement is the bill recently introduced in the State Legislature giving the Commissioner of Banking complete control of insolvent State banks just the same as the Comptroller of the Currency has over national banks. The measure means not only prompt settlement by the State authorities, but also the elimination of expensive receiverships.

The Democrats in Congress have compromised on the Wool Tariff by agreeing to reduce it 50% instead of striking wool free of duty. They probably discovered that Free Wool trumped too heavily on Democratic votes.

"There's many a slip 'Twixt the cup and the lip. But between slips are mud And sometimes very bad."

"The Chief Mitchell lost his head," headlines the Commercial Organ. "The headless man" is still under his hat, but reports it was still under his hat.

Uniontown is taking a proper interest in railroad schedules. Connelville should awaken up before the whistle of the summer schedule too.

One Green county mine doesn't make a region but it makes a start.

An independent, unaffiliated operator won his suit for equitable freight with hands down. The railroad companies confessed and made due reparations. It looks as if they would have to do the same thing in the Connelville coke and Pittsburgh coal cases.

Somebody seems to have a watchful eye on the old South Penn route with its extensive and expensive grading. A position along the line has been presented to the Attorney General asking that he procure a forfeiture of the charter rights on the ground of non-user. The South Penn is a better proposition now than when it was projected.

Connellville has an aviation artist.

The economy of shooting up and sinking old battleships is questioned in Congress, not without reason. There are thousands of dollars worth of salvage in these old ships, and it seems like the height of extravagance to sink them in the depths of the ocean.

An insurance code has been presented to the Legislature for consideration. We have not seen a copy of the code, but if it does not it should contain a clause whereby insurance ratings may be reviewed by the courts or other civil authority. Some insurance ratings are as arbitrary as some railroad freight rates.

The Uniontown Herald discourses at length concerning royal flushes and their effect upon humanity, and concludes with the statement that the salter does not know from experience anything about royal flushes. He doesn't state, however, that he never tried to draw one. Perhaps he is more unlucky than innocent.

A commendable bill is that proposed making truth-telling where necessary a capital offense. The truth-wrecker who deliberately plans a whole murder for mere plunder is a murderer on a wholesale scale, and hanging is too good for him.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

United Press Special.
WASHINGTON, April 20.
Rep. 'Ollie' James (Dem. Ky.) still retains the proud distinction of being the biggest man, physically, in the House of Representatives. Rep. Donby (Rep. Mich.), who was his formidable competitor in the first Congress, was among those who did not return to the 62nd.

Rep. Hamilton (Rep. Mich.), who was chairman of the House Committee on the Territories during the last session, and reported the enabling act to admit Arizona and New Mexico, will shortly ask to be relieved from further work on the committee where he was placed by Miss Ives Landon. Hamilton says he feels that he has done his share of the work on the Territories Committee.

Hope has been practically abandoned for any changes in the bill of the House of Representatives. For six or seven years improvements have been planned with the idea of making the Chamber smaller and the acquiescence better. At the beginning of the first Congress a committee had architects draw up plans which contemplated sweeping changes and the expenditure of nearly a million dollars to effect these changes. Now the Democrats are in power, and the retraction program on it is said there will be no expenditure for this purpose.

Theron J. Aldin a Republican who was elected by Democrats from the 25th New York district, is recognized neither by the Republicans nor the Democrats. He did not attend the caucus of either party. Members are commenting on the fact that Aldin is half-Democrat and half-Republican. He is now seated in his place on the aisle next to the Republican side, opposite the "Pamphlet Strip" — the overflow of Democrats from the majority side.

COMMITTEES HAVE BEGUN THEIR WORK.

Scottdale High School Alumni Will Get Ready for Banquet.

ANOTHER MEETING APRIL 27

Scottdale Poultry and Pot Stuck Association Has Chosen Charles B. Keeler Judge for Next Show—Meets to Elect Officers Next Thursday.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, April 20.—The organization of the Alumni Association of the Scottdale High school which always comes about the commencement season has started off with more than usual spirit this year. The meeting of the Executive Committee at the home of Miss Grace Lockard last evening took up the work actively and appointed a number of committees for the coming year. The committees will be met with the banquet. The committees are as follows:

General Arrangements Committee—Jay P. Grantham, chairman, Mrs. W. F. Shotts, Harry Colborn, Miss Nellie Herbert and Mrs. Florence R. Anderson.

Decorating Committee, Mrs. Fred M. Leveally, chairman, David Gove, assistant, with the class of 1910 and this year's Junior class.

Program Committee, Miss Nina M. Randall, Dr. S. B. Gray and Ralph G. Walker.

Invitation Committee, Miss Grace Lockard, chairman, Miss Eva Rosensteel, Miss Florence Herbert and J. Wesley Wiley.

Reception Committee, Mrs. John Miller, chairman; R. Harry Parker, Mrs. Addie Randall, Dr. N. E. Blaser, Mrs. W. F. Shotts, Mrs. Roy K. Loucks, Frank Kenney, Miss Jane Parker, Mrs. Anna J. The chairman of each of the above committees make up the Executive Committee. There will be another meeting of the Alumni on Thursday evening, April 27, at the High school building.

Howe's Circus Today
Howe's Great London Show arrived in town this morning about 1 o'clock from Connellsville where they showed yesterday, and are now quartered at Ellsworth Park, where the performance will be given. Not much of the circus could be seen; but the horses are a splendid lot of animals, and a circus can usually be judged by its live stock, so it is safe to say that the show will make good at its claims.

The Poultry Judge.
The Scottdale Poultry and Pot Stuck Association will hold a meeting at the office of Justice of the Peace J. C. Steiner on Thursday evening, April 27, at which time the officers for the coming year will be elected. All members are urged by the President S. C. Steiner to attend this important meeting.

The association has already selected their judge for the second annual show which will be held in Scottdale the first week of December. The judge this year will be Charles B. Keeler of Winamac, Indiana, who is registered and licensed as a judge under the rules of the American Poultry Association. He acted as judge at the show held at Chambersburg last year and gave excellent satisfaction.

Clark Grazier Here
Clark Grazier, a former prominent and well known citizen is here from Warrior's Mark, where he conducts a farm of several hundred acres. He will be in town for a few days on business.

Stoyestown Bank Cashier Dismissed

Special to The Courier.
STOYESTOWN, Pa., April 20.—The board of directors of the First National Bank of Stoyestown at a special meeting held Tuesday afternoon dismissed the cashier of that institution, Earl F. Fulton, a well known young man of Stoyestown who had been employed in the banking institution for the last five years and who had been cashier of the bank since last July.

Officials of the bank stated that this action was taken under peremptory orders from the controller of the currency at Washington, D. C., who in issuing orders for the dismissal of Cashier Fulton supplemented this demand with a statement to the effect that Bank Examiner Smith of his department had found irregularities in the cashier's accounts of cash balances and overdrafts as early as February 15 last.

Officials of the bank claim that the bank examiner on his February visit to the institution discovered a shortage in the accounts of Cashier Fulton in the neighborhood of $800 and since that time other irregularities were found that bring the total close to the $2,700 mark. After a thorough examination of the books of the institution and the recovery of a portion of the money Fulton was kept in the employ of the bank under surveillance, the directors fearing that if he were dismissed prematurely the bonding company might not be liable for any shortage that might remain unsettled. It was not until orders came from the controller of the currency directing the dismissal, they relented that a special meeting for that purpose was called and when the young man was relieved of duty all except $100 of the amount of the irregularities had been refunded to the bank and it was announced that this amount would be forthcoming tomorrow. It is announced that the directors of the bank have agreed not to prosecute young Fulton, who comes from one of the most prominent families in this section.

The successor of Fulton as cashier of the bank is Thomas M. Ireland, who has been an assistant cashier of the institution.

Shoes at Cost Plus 5 Per Cent.

More About the Regal Shoe Co.'s Plan of Scientific and Economical Shoe-Selling.

There is a bill before Congress to authorize the coinage of the half-cent

The advocates of this bill say that a half-cent coin would save the public hundreds of dollars a year. Prices like 6 1/2 cents, 12 1/2 cents, 37 1/2 cents, are common in the dry-goods shops. But if you buy only one yard of a 37 1/2 cent muslin, you must pay 38 cents. If you buy a half-a-yard of 35 cent muslin you must pay, not 17 1/2 cents, but 18 cents. So, the use of the half-cent is urged as a measure of economy.

If it is wise to split a cent, how much wiser to split half dollars?

If the public has lost thousands through the lack of a half-cent, how many millions has the public lost because there was no coin of less value than the half-dollar recognized in shoe stores?

Think a moment and you will see that this is a fact. Have you ever seen a fine shoe of standard make regularly sold at any other price than full dollars or half dollars—$3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, and so on?

Standard shoes have always been made to fit these arbitrary prices, fixed in advance. Why? We don't know—except that it is a trade custom, which is no reason at all.

Anyhow, the Regal Shoe Co. have abolished that custom

They have put the selling of shoes on the same exact, scientific, economical basis that governs the pricing of most other necessities of life, and which ought to govern all of them.

Regal Shoes will hereafter be priced at cost of making, plus five per cent. commission and the cost of selling.

Regals will be made in several general price-classes, but the actual price of every model will be figured as above by certified public accountants, AND STAMPED ON THE SHOES AT THE FACTORY.

The price will be stamped just as it figures out (except that there will be no splitting nickels). It may be an "odd" price, like $3.85, $4.35, etc.—or it may be an "even" price, like $4.00, $4.50, etc. Whatever it really figures, you will pay. There will be no "juggling" either of the shoes or the prices to make the latter conform to tradition.

This is the Stamp

This stamp is your guarantee of full Regal quality at the lowest price for which such quality can be bought. It takes all the uncertainty, all the unknown profits, all the unnecessary expense out of shoe buying.

It is your guarantee that the LARGEST POSSIBLE PROPORTION of the price you pay is returned in leather and workmanship.

In Regal Shoes MORE OF YOUR MONEY WILL GO FOR SHOE SATISFACTION and LESS FOR SOME ONE'S PROFIT than in any other make you can buy.

In Regal Shoes you get what you want, and pay only for what you get

If a heavier sole, worth 20 cents more, is put into a Regal Shoe that would otherwise sell for $4.00, the price of that shoe will be $4.20. Under the old system further and unnecessary expense had to be added also, to bring the retail price up to $4.50.

If leather goes up, you will pay us only the exact amount of the advance. If leather goes down, you now automatically save 95 per cent. of whatever the Regal Factories save. Heretofore, small economies in factory cost could seldom save you anything.

If a new Regal model is designed that can be sold at, say, $4.35, it will be sold at $4.35. Under the old system, either the shoe had to be trimmed down to make it cost $4.00, or unnecessary expense added to make it cost $4.50.

Regal Prices Are Now $3.35 to $5.85

The Howe Show at Scottdale Today

Howe's Great London Shows saw the worst kind of weather here yesterday but despite this fact the big tent was fairly well crowded at both performances. The show seems to please those who braved the weather to take it in.

The weather was most discouraging to the showmen. In the morning the drizzle started which compelled most of the performers to wear rubber coats to protect their unsold shoes during the parade. During the afternoon the drizzle held off long enough for the afternoon crowd to turn out but it was sloppy underneath.

The later downpour caught the crowd going home in the afternoon. It continued to rain throughout the evening and the ball park was a mire, the mud being dangerously near ankle deep in spots.

Tents were struck and today Scottdale will have the opportunity to take in the show. With fair weather the Mill Town should turn out in force but indications were not any too encouraging this morning for sunshine.

The Howe circus compares favorably with all of the less pretentious shows that have visited Connellsville in recent seasons. Several of the acts are particularly creditable.

The Mystery of Ligonier Robberies Explained in Arrests Made

OF OKE AND LEWIS ENOSS

Men, Had Secreted Four Wagon Loads of Stolen Goods in Their Mountain Home—More Arrests are Expected Either Today or Tomorrow.

Special to The Courier.

LIGONIER, April 20.—Following the arrest of Oke Enoss and Lewis Enoss early yesterday morning, charged with larceny and burglary, the officers have recovered over two horse wagon loads of stolen property, valued at $2,000. The prisoners are in the lockup here. Great excitement prevailed as the stolen booty was hauled into town; and the streets were thronged with interested people all afternoon and evening.

The Enoss boys were captured early yesterday after Chief of Police William Stoffer discovered two men plundering the store of L. H. Welles, and had chased them down the Stahtstown road in the direction of the Enoss home.

The attempted robbery of the Welles hardware store Tuesday morning was the eighth time within the past 12 months that burglars have gained an entrance. On previous visits they escaped undetected. Other stores robbed within the past year are the hardware store of A. H. Myers & Son, the general store of Macker & Markel, the store of T. J. Kuhn, all in Ligonier, and the store of J. M. Dinkley, of Harold, and Grove's store at Weaver's Mill. The proprietors of each of the above stores identified portions of the booty recovered yesterday.

When first placed in the lockup the prisoners denied all knowledge of the crimes. They were placed in separate cells and questioned by Chief Stoffer and members of the State Constabulary. This afternoon, when told that a large quantity of goods had been recovered, they admitted to the officers that they had robbed the four stores in Ligonier, stating that they hauled away the property in a spring wagon. Several officers heard their statements.

The search throughout the day attracted great attention. Besides Chief of Police Stoffer and four members of the State police, Constable Norman Kelley deputized John Stoffer and two other men to assist in the search.

The party first went to the Enoss home. A large quantity of merchandise and hardware was found there. Nearly two wagon loads were discovered in a room in an old log house on the Enoss farm, and another wagon load was found in another building in another neighborhood. The property was hauled to town, C. O. Graham and E. J. Nicely, local liverymen, each hauling two loads.

The goods, when brought to town, were stored in a vacant room over the drug store of W. J. Potts. The room is 20 by 50 feet and the floor is piled high with every variety of goods commonly found in a general store. There are strands of fencing wire, heavy coils of rope, rifles, shotguns and revolvers, musical instruments, sugar, coffee and tea, dry goods, flour and sacks of feed. Several hundred people gathered and watched the unloading of the goods. The crowd was as great as on a circus day.

In an old shot bag in the log house on the Enoss farm was found $108.30 in money, also several hundred post office stamps, ranging from one to ten cents in value.

Officers state that more arrests are sure to follow. The Enoss boys slept in the old log house and took their meals at their father's house a short distance away.

David Enoss, their father, stated that there was one room in the log house which the boys kept locked, and to which they refused admittance to all.

Chief of Police William Stoffer was the first to discover the presence of the robbers, and prompt action on his part prevented another heavy loss and resulted in the capture of the suspects.

Chief Stoffer was making his rounds late at night when he detected a mysterious light in the hardware store of L. H. Welles. He saw the light move and then disappear, as though guarded carefully by those carrying it. He hurried to a window and peeped in. He saw two men at work, and from their manner it was evident that they were not working for the good of the store owner. The two suspects moved carefully about the store, selecting portions of the stock here and there and depositing in a heap between the counters. After watching long enough to discover their motive Chief Stoffer quickly gave the alarm and summoned the four members of the State police who are stationed there.

It is believed, however, that the robbers heard the approach of the party, for just as the store was being surrounded they broke through the back door and ran out of town, taking the Stahtstown road. They were pursued by Chief Stoffer and the troopers, and about one mile out of town the officers came upon a two-horse team and wagon hitched to the fence. It is evident that the robbers were so closely pursued that they did not dare to stop long enough to unhitch the team.

The officers inspected the outfit and Chief Stoffer quickly recognized it as belonging to the Enoss family, living about eight miles from Ligonier, on the Stahtstown road. The officer had seen the team in town many times and knew its owners.

Having recognized the team the officer had seen the team in town many times and knew its owners. They were taken to the Ligonier jail and charged preferred against them before Squire Graham.

In the Enoss home the officers found goods valued at hundreds of dollars, and much of it was later identified by Ligonier merchants as having been stolen from their places of business. There were nearly two wagon loads of booty in the house, including rifles, shotguns, revolvers, phonographs, dry goods and merchandise of every variety that the stock of a general merchant affords.

Ligonier merchants visited the place Wednesday and picked out their own property. Some of the goods will be held as evidence against the defendants.

The attempted robbery of the Welles store, Tuesday night, was the final act in a long series of robberies which have annoyed Ligonier residents for the past year. Despite the utmost efforts of the Ligonier officers and the State police no clue to the robbers could be secured until Chief Stoffer detected them in the act, late Tuesday night.

The general opinion, prevailing among Ligonier merchants that those under arrest are not the only ones implicated in the many burglaries of the past few months. It is declared that merchandise to the value of several hundred dollars has been taken to which there is no clue, that found at the Enoss home being only a small portion of the aggregate amount.

Merchants who know the Enoss boys believe that they have been used as a cat's paw by others who have the profits of the alleged crooked deals.
